

— State of —
North Dakota
Office of the Governor

John Hoeven
Governor

PROCLAMATION
MANAGEMENT WEEK
JUNE 7-13, 2009

WHEREAS, responsible and resourceful management practices are vital to the success of business, education, industry, government and other activities in our state; and

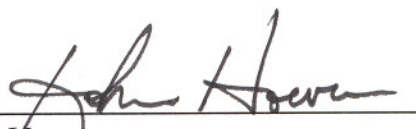

WHEREAS, our nation's system of free enterprise is dependent upon sound, efficient management strategies; and

WHEREAS, the National Management Association, with more than 19,000 members nationwide, advocates sound management practices on behalf of businesses, industries and public-sector organizations; and

WHEREAS, members of the National Management Association are dedicated to improving productivity and continuously contribute their talents and energies to increase their knowledge and expertise regarding new and effective management principles; and

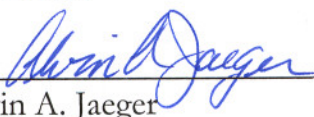

WHEREAS, members of the Bismarck-Mandan Leadership Development Organization and Medcenter One Leadership Association chapters in North Dakota are making important contributions in furthering management and supervisory practices, and promoting strong leadership within our communities, businesses and state.

NOW, THEREFORE, as Governor of the State of North Dakota, I do hereby proclaim June 7-13, 2009, MANAGEMENT WEEK in the state of North Dakota.

John Hoeven
Governor

ATTEST:

Alvin A. Jaeger
Secretary of State